What is Psoriasis

Psoriasis is a skin disease that causes red itchy, scaly patches. They usually appear on elbows, knees, lower back and scalp. It tends to go through cycles, flaring for a few weeks or months then subsiding for a while or going into remission.

Why Psoriasis

Human body has skeletal muscle alignment. Functional link between the teeth and back, muscles from the upper cervical area and dural tube encircling the brain travel through lower skull structures (teeth, jawbone) to the sacrum, a triangular-shaped bone at the base of the spine, any issues anywhere with this interconnected system will affect points along the connection. It means human body alignment holds upper jaw. Upper jaw played crucial role maintain skeletal, muscles in alignment. Unfortunately many outside factors accidental cause, injury, overworking if create physical force which push upper jaw teeth left side it start from 1 mm then it stretch trigeminal nerves and trigeminal nerves branches stretch other nerves (tissues) of muscle and bones. Then our body react cervical misalignment skull moved right to left. Then back side of right ear jaw pull down and from back side of left ear goes up. Then spinal cord started misaligned it causes inflammation, soreness, anxiety, depression digestive issues and chronic fatigue are just some of the many ways in which your body telling you that you have vertebra out of alignment. This is because the body is thrown off balance, the central nervous system is unable to perform to the best of its ability. Every action, exercises movement of human body stretch nerves, tissues more and more and musculoskeletal twists increases so psoriasis flaring all over body.
