

Relationship Between 2nd Dimension and 6th Dimension for Describing “Neurotic Personality Disorder”, and 5th and 7th Dimension for Describing “paranoid personality disorder”

Koyunoğlu C***

Department of Energy Systems Engineering, Yalova University, Turkey

*Corresponding author: Cemil Koyunoğlu, Energy Systems Engineering Department, Engineering Faculty, Central Campus, Yalova University, Turkey, Email: cemil.koyunoglu@yalova.edu.tr

Editorial

Volume 7 Issue 1

Received Date: January 24, 2022

Published Date: February 04, 2022

DOI: 10.23880/ijbp-16000199

Editorial

Today, I witness that people normally spend their time in silence, especially in their working life, without attracting the attention of other people. Scientific studies contain clues that people who do not hang on to their jobs after staff recruitment should be supervised. A study conducted at Aarhus University in Denmark showed that feeling bored triggers sadistic behaviors. In general, I will try to explain how people who exhibit neurotic personality disorder and exhibit mobbing behaviors in institutions take refuge in the reasons explained by the term “sadist” by harming both their colleagues, their institutions, and their country. Sadism generally means liking and enjoying the suffering of any human being. The basis of these behaviors is that they are based on early childhood experiences, which supports the theory of Sigmund Freud. Relationships between parents and traumas are the most important reasons for the formation of sadism in people. The most important factors are the experiences of physical and emotional abuse and neglect, which form the basis of sadistic behaviors. You can recognize this characteristic behavior from your supervisors’ angry reaction to the rights of a successful employee. However, this person shows himself very well-intentioned to those around him. To cover up the childhood traumas in the 6th dimension, gifted people experience a state of pleasure by complicating their work in the workplace. For this, they physically stand next to people who praise those people by using the location factor. But never in thought. With the 2nd dimension, that is, standing next to him physically, the 6th dimension, that is, to cover up the trauma he experienced as a child, makes foot plays that will limit the advantages of the talented person. This is what our ancestors called “foot game” must have been used for this. Foot game 2nd dimension verbal slander is usually carried out with lies to hide 6th dimension. Let’s come to those with paranoid personality disorder, their situation is a little more serious. Because, although their experience of living with daily realities expressing the 4th dimension is very limited, they cannot effectively manage the logical impulse (7th dimension) that will continue their lives. In other words, they forget a sentence they said in 2 minutes. The reason for this is that everyone living in the world thinks that they will harm themselves. If you see people who approach the events around you with the logic that you are exaggerating, I say be careful. Maybe we will continue in our next article, but I believe that I have made a good start in understanding the relationship between dimensions and diseases. Please do not exclude these people, direct them to receive clinical therapy so that they do not harm their environment. For your city, even for our country. Please... Thank you...

