Abstract

There are plenty of both soft and hot drinks available in the market. Some drinks are good for health and the other drinks are harmful to the body. All the intoxicating drinks spoil our health. Even soft drinks that have chemicals are harmful to the body. In this work, the author unlocks the mysteries and beautiful applications of the traditional knowledge of cutch tree blossom, peepal tree leaves and jujube leaves NECTAR that was used and kept in total secrecy by the Indian Tantra Gurus.

Keywords: Soft and hot drinks; Cutch tree blossom; Tantra Gurus

Benefits of Beverages Made from Cutch Tree Blossoms, Peepal Tree Leaves and Jujube Tree Leaves

The tantric maithuna ritual consists of the consumption of meat, fish, fried grain, wine made up of cutch tree blossoms and sexual intercourse. These are called five substances/pancha makaras. The ritual is not fruitful if a practitioner skips these things. This nectar made up of the three substances is an alternative nectar. The combination of the three raw materials goes to chemical interactions ultimately yielding alternative nectar. This nectar activates Kundalini energy and spreads all over the human body.

The Cutch Tree Blossoms, Peepal Tree Leaves and Jujube Tree Leaves Alternative NECTAR Consumption Yields the Following Results

Focus, concentration, awakening of the all seven energy centers, purifications of the 72,000 nadis, rejuvenation of the cells, calmness of the mind, streamlining of all the body systems such as nervous, bone, respiration, reproduction, intestine endocrine, etc. This alternative NECTAR consumption awakens the Kundalini energy and activates the other six primary chakras [energy centers] of our subtle body. The main and most important thing is that both the male and female can experience and enjoy sexual intercourse for very longer periods of time. During this time, the couple enjoy total ecstasy. This yields body pleasure, mental peace and calmness, spiritual bliss and enlightenment. Moreover, this cutch tree blossom wine helps the couple to stay in Yab-Yum posture for hours. This is the easiest path to control the mind and get a pure consciousness state of body and mind. This posture and the alternative NECTAR helps the couple to control sexual energy and almost stops early ejaculation and even ejaculation. This is the hidden treasure of this alternative NECTAR. This information may be found in Tantric Veera Sadhana and Brihad Nila Tantra.

Preparation of Cutch Tree Blossom Wine

Take equal quantities of cutch tree blossoms, peepal tree leaves and jujube tree leaves. Put them in a mud pot. Pour pure water such that the water fills five to seven inches above these three substances. Boil the pot for ten minutes. Now remove the boiled items by filtering out and store the extracts in another mud pot. Let the heat of this raw wine cool down. After cooling fully cover the opening part of this mud pot. Then dig a ditch in a good ground such that the length of ditch is thrice longer than that of the mud pot containing the raw alternative NECTAR. Now close this ditch with the sands of the same ground.

This raw wine will naturally get fermented without the inclusion of any other substances. The full fermentation process will take place minimum forty days to maximum eighty days. After this fermentation, take out the pot and preserve this alternative NECTAR in a good quality glass container and keep safe.

Since cutch tree blossoms are available only during February – April, the dried blossoms may be either preserved or the heartwood powder may be used. But this is not very effective. The peepal and jujube leaves are not rare items and they are readily available in the market. Any other flowers, fruits and greens which do not spoil human health may be added during the preparation of this cutch wine. This is a very vast area. The research community has to do several R&Ds in this field.

Discussion

This traditional alternative NECTAR formula was departed by a great Tantra Guru to the author in 1972. The author has regularly consumed this wine for the last fifty years. This enabled the author to solve 23,000 years mathematical impossibilities. Also, this helped the author to explore more and more outstanding discoveries and inventions in science and spirituality. The author is afraid of being ridiculed by the research community, referees and editors of peer reviewed journals. That's why I kept total mum for five decades. Now I am very ambitious to introduce this formula not only to the scientific world but also to the corporate companies so that the applications of this traditional alternative NECTAR will reach the people. The previous records show that research scientists had to wait several decades for the recognition of their findings. To cite an example Lobacheshy's invention was accepted only 81 years after the publication. And Riemann had to keep silent facing all flippant remarks for more than 61 years for approval and recognition. Let us recall that the author of FRACTALS had to wait forty years for the publication of his invention. Now there is an Elsevier journal by the name FRACTALS.

Conclusion

It is well known that in science, experimental verification is the supreme judge. Kindly go through the lab. Test report at the appendix. I sincerely request the readers to go through it in depth.
