Tubelis & Costa. Greater Rheas in the Caatinga, Brazil

Photographic records (n = 104) of adult Greater Rheas (Rhea americana) obtained by citizen scientists in the Caatinga, the Brazilian dry forest region, between 2007 and 2023, with information on the location and date of records, and the number of adults per record. Number of adults: (Photograph) indicates the number of adults shown in each photographic record; (Message) indicates the number of adults informed by authors to be present in the surroundings at the moment of each photographic record. The sign “-” indicates that the author of the photographic record has not answered our question about flock size. Records containing evidence of breeding activities (n = 8) were not listed here, but in Table 1. Records were listed by state, then by municipality, and then randomly. Data were gathered in the WikiAves platform in April 2023.
